To whom it may concern,

My name is Jacob Johnson and I've lived in Exeter for 25 years. My family moved here when I was just a kid so I grew up here. I played sports for the city and then for the schools, had experiences I'll never forget, and made lifelong friends. I love our little town very much. I've never been the one that wanted to leave and end up coming back; I knew where I wanted to be so I never left! I come from a blue collar hard working family that never really had much time to get involved with city activities and I've always felt like I missed out on some things growing up. Now that I'm a father I make sure my daughter is involved with her school and community but I would like to be an example for her to keep it going as an adult. Serving on the city council would be a great opportunity to not only get more involved with the town I love but also make a positive contribution to the place that I call home. I would love the chance to give back to the community that helped shape me into the man I am today.

Sincerely,

Addendum to Application for Consideration: May 30, 2019

When I was picking peaches at Tagus Ranch I dreamt and wondered about the outside world. A world outside of Tagus Ranch, outside of Tulare County, and outside of California. I had a yearning to know and see places I had only read about. (My parents were farm laborers and did not have the means to travel.) After graduation from Tulare Western High School (1969) I had the opportunity to live in Innsbruck Austria as an exchange student. After finishing college in Los Angeles, I worked for a banking corporation and traveled throughout the United States (New York, Washington D.C., Miami, Dallas, Houston, etc..) dealing and negotiating with other banks and American corporations. As a banker and business consultant I have also traveled in Mexico and lived in Managua, Nicaragua. My professional and business travels were supplemented by personal trips to many communities in the United States and various European countries.

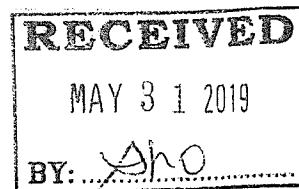

Then came the point in my life's journey wherein I had the means and opportunity to live anywhere in the United States or various locations in Austria. After much deliberation I decided to return "home". I decided to relocate and live in Tulare County. Now, I am a resident of Exeter. I have never been happier.

Given the cultural and economic dynamics of post-war America, many of us were inundated with the concept of "more". We came to believe that "more" and "bigger" equated to "better". We lost sight of "quality". Quality, especially "quality of life", can be achieved with less. I have lived and worked in large American, European, and Latin American cities. My preference is "small town America". That maximizes my personal happiness.

Professionally, I am a numbers person: I analyze, with laser focus, budgets, cash flows, revenue sources, and variances of estimates, thereto. In my career as a banker and corporate manager, I developed a reputation as a problem solver. However, my favorite corporate responsibility was delivering excellent service to customers and assisting them in issues that developed with retail delivery of products and services. Over the years I have done so in three languages.

My work with the Tulare County Grand Jury has given me valuable insight as to the inner machinations of county and municipal governments. That experience, coupled with my financial skills, would enable me to become a productive and proactive member of the Exeter City Council. My goal would be to contribute, significantly, to "Protecting, Preserving, and Promoting Small Town America"!

Honorable Exeter City Council Members,

I am excited to write this letter to you expressing my desire to be appointed interim council person for District A here in Exeter. Local government is essential to our way of life here and preserving and enhancing it is my goal.

My name is Dave Hails, and I am qualified to fill this seat because I understand the things effecting Exeter through the following;

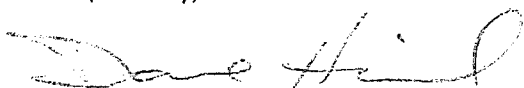

- + Property owner
- + Substitute teacher for Exeter Schools since 2007
- + Realtor at Century 21 Jordan-Link and Co. and I serve on the Local Government Relations Committee and the Local Candidate Recommendations Committee
- + Boy Scout Leader
- + Father of 2 children in elementary and middle school in Exeter
- + Olive farmer until this year (12 years)
- + Political experience on the Congressional, supervisorial and city council levels
- + Fluent in Spanish

In my capacity as a real estate agent I canvass all parts of Exeter and speak to residents not only about real estate, but things they enjoy about Exeter and aspects they see as needing special attention, to better understand the market and the things that resonate with our neighbors.

I feel that my life experience as a sole proprietor business owner, knowledge of business, schools and government, my lifelong interest in policy and procedure and willingness to cooperate and perhaps bring new ideas and insight to the council, that I would make a significant contribution to not only the City Council but to all of Exeter.

The need for compromise and team building without ego is crucial to achieving common goals. Exeter's unique position in our county must be preserved and strengthened. Forward thinking collaboration is central to this and is currently taking place on the city council. I believe I can help push the agenda forward. I look forward to meeting each of you.

Respectfully,

Re: City Council Vacancy in District A – Dave Hails Recommendation

To Whom It May Concern:

Please accept this letter as our recommendation for Dave Hails to be appointed to fill the vacant City Council seat for District A.

Given Dave's extensive education, political experience (at the National level), involvement in the local community and success in the Real Estate industry, we feel that he would be a valuable addition to the Council. He is a very effective communicator and conducts all his business affairs in a collaborative fashion. He also effectively manages projects and challenging transactions in our business through from beginning to successful completion.

Dave also has a passion for the City of Exeter and is very committed to its progress and growth as a community and place to raise his children.

Please feel free to contact me with any questions, or additional feedback on Dave. I wish you a successful transition and the best for the future.

Sincerely,
